Department of Mechanical Engineering (ME), in association with Career Development Cell, MAIT organized a Mock Group Discussion (GD) for 3rd year students of both the departments on 21st March 2024. The GD was conducted with the primary objective of preparing students for upcoming placements, higher studies, and other career-related opportunities. The session aimed to enhance students' communication skills, teamwork abilities, and overall confidence in participating in group discussions, a common aspect of various selection processes. The GD session was conducted by staff members from AECC Study Abroad Consultants, who brought expertise in assessing participants based on various criteria essential for success in group discussions. A total of 43 students enthusiastically participated in the Mock GD from the Department of Mechanical Engineering. The active involvement of students from both departments showcased their eagerness to enhance their employability skills and readiness for future career prospects.
